Dear Parents and Carers

I have just had a call to confirm that we have a 'virtual' Ofsted visit tomorrow. Ofsted are working across the country to look at schools and how they have managed the return to being fully open following the lockdown earlier this year. They are keen to gain a wider understanding of the impact of the pandemic on our children.

Her Majesty's Inspectors Sarah McGinnis and Matthew Barnes will be leading the day. They will be meeting with us virtually throughout the day to look at how effectively we have addressed:

- Safeguarding
- Attendance
- Behaviour
- Curriculum and remote learning.

There will not be a report following this visit as they are not making any judgment, the findings will feed into a wider national report. A letter recording the visit will be published approximately two weeks after the visit.

I am confident that they will be highly impressed by the fantastic way our staff team have contributed to a very positive return to school for the pupils at Magical Meare.

Yours sincerely

Jan Fellows
