

Newsletter
No.1

Dear Parents and Carers,

We hope this newsletter finds you all safe and well? At times it felt like January was dragging its heels then, at other times, it felt like it was flying by! Here we are knocking on February's door and we wanted to share some of the lovely learning that our marvellous Human Beans have been doing both in school and at home.

Beautiful bread making in Pyxis Mmmmmm, yummy!

Dinosaurs
Pegasus wrote a dinosaur poem together.
Dinosaurs are big or small.
Dinosaurs are strong and powerful.
Dinosaurs are bumpy or smooth.
Dinosaurs can be green, yellow or red.
Dinosaurs are mean, but some are gentle.
Dinosaurs might be naughty.
Dinosaurs are sometimes kind and they could be your pet.
Dinosaurs are extinct.

Designing board games in Draconis

Learning about Giacometti's long legged sculptures and creating fossilised fish in Centaurus

Snow brought a little magic to the world - even if only for a little while.

Thank you for the photos you sent us. We loved seeing you all having so much fun!

Google Classrooms

I had the pleasure of catching up with our Centaurus and Pyxis Beans during their Google Meets. I cannot tell you how wonderful it was to not only see our wonderful children but to have a good chin wag with them too! I cannot wait to catch up with the Draconis and Pegasus Beans soon. We have had lots of positive feedback from both parents and children about their experience with Google Classrooms. However, the government expectation for remote learning has changed greatly, for schools as well as parents, from last March and we are keen to find out your points of view. You have been sent a questionnaire and it would be extremely helpful if you could complete it and send it back to us as soon as possible.

As the lockdown is set to continue beyond the half term it is important that we continue to look after our mental well-being as much as our physical well-being. We have included some further information to help you support your children during these strange and unsettling times and we are hopeful that it won't be too much longer until we are all together again. Please note that schools will be closed as normal at half term. There will be no provision at Meare Village Primary School for children of Critical Workers and Vulnerable Families during that week. Please stay safe everyone!
